TVNZ Breakfast Coming to Ophir and Naseby

Mark your calendar! Tamati Coffey and the Breakfast's weather show are coming to Ophir and Naseby in July!

Each Tuesday, Breakfast's roving reporter sets out on one of his most challenging missions yet. Tamati is on a mid-winter tour of the coldest regions in New Zealand in search of kiwi characters who live, work and play in the lowest temperatures and he will warm them up with a hot mug of MILO!

The MILO Team begins the warm up where the temperature is coldest – visiting Ophir on 6 July, the tiny Otago township famous for recording the lowest temperature ever in New Zealand history. Next stop is Naseby on 13 July, where Tamati will try out curling, ice skating and lugging!

So, come along and defrost your fingers with a hot MILO from the crew. There will also be prize giveaways on the day, so make sure you and the family are there to join in the very early morning fun! What a great way to start the day and keep the family entertained in the school holidays!

Let's show New Zealand our warm hearted hospitality and support Tamati and the Milo Team while they are visiting Central Otago.
