Spotlight On...

Proud to be a world of difference

From the scorched summer hills to the icy hush of winter, Central Otago is like nowhere else. Over 20 years ago, you told us what makes this place special, from our landscapes and heritage to the way our communities look out for each other. Those values became our Regional Identity, Central Otago: A World of Difference. They have guided how we plan, grow and share our story ever since.

The brand now has a refreshed look, and a new Regional Identity document brings our values together with our 50-year District Vision.

This identity belongs to you, and you've told us how much it matters. In the recent local government reform surveys, Central Otago was the only region to name its identity as a top priority. As our region grows, it helps make sure that growth reflects what you value most. Learn more about Central Otago: A World of Difference at <https://www.centralotagonz.com/discover/>
